

Patrick O'Brien

Chief Executive Officer
LenderLogix

The logo for LenderLogix, featuring the words "LENDER" and "LOGIX" stacked vertically in a white, sans-serif font against a dark blue square background.

Patrick worked as a residential mortgage banker for a large regional financial institution for 15 years. Having been a successful retail loan originator, he understands the importance of the lender/realtor relationship and helped create LenderLogix from a banker's perspective. Patrick has a passion for process improvement and led initiatives to bring efficiencies to the mortgage process. He's advised on several major LOS implementations and consulted throughout design, testing and implementation. Patrick is a graduate of the University at Buffalo and lives in Buffalo, NY.
